

THE MARION DAILY STAR.

VOL. XVIII. NO. 280.

MARION, OHIO, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1895.

PRICE 3 CENTS.

HAWAII IS READY

Give The Filibusters a Warm Reception.

WE HAVE ALL BEEN ARMED

The Government increasing its military force and taking other precautions to ensure landing of a party of armed men on a Recommitting Expedition before that has run its course.

Oct. 7, via San Francisco, 15.—Filibustering expeditions are attracting the attention of the people. The government has received word that no invasion may be expected any time. On the morning of the 7th, a boatload of armed men had landed on the island, about 10 miles from Honolulu. The men questioned natives about the surrounding country and then put off to a large vessel which was anchored off the western Pearl harbor. A company of men was sent after the strangers and the government tug was sent out with a fieldpiece and a detachment of sailors. The tug cruised about for hours and returned reporting that nothing was seen of the men. The appearance of the supposed filibusters caused the government to prepare itself for invasion. The police have all been armed, extra soldiers have been called in and other ways the government is adopting precautionary measures.

The filibuster craft is supposed to have come from some southern port. It is known that Ezeta and one of the Aspin brothers are at the head of the movement. Ezeta recently left San Pedro for the south for the avowed purpose of enlisting men to overthrow the present government. Many people here soon the idea of any plan of attack, but the action of the government of late proves that there are no plans for fear and are acting accordingly.

Cholera Quarantine Lifted.

Train on the Norfolk and Western Road

Goes Into a Ditch.

ELKHORN, W. Va., Oct. 15.—A passenger train on the Norfolk and Western road was wrecked by a broken frog between Bluefield and Kenova. The baggage and mail car and the second class coach were thrown from the track and then ditched.

Seventy-six passengers were in the car and all were more or less injured.

P. P. Dillon, mayor of Pocahontas, W. Va., was badly hurt, also R. L. Coney, of Greenbrier Coal company, and F. L. Shaffer, baggage master. All the wounded passengers were taken to Pocahontas for medical attendance.

IRISH NATIONAL ALLIANCE

Requests the Holding of Meetings to Form Councils.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A circular, of which the following is a copy, has been forwarded to the delegates throughout the country who attended the Irish National convention recently held in Chicago, when the Irish National alliance was established:

In pursuance of the resolutions unanimously adopted at the convention of Irish Nationalists held in Chicago on September 24, 25 and 26 last, inaugurating and establishing the Irish National alliance, whose object is the attainment of the complete national independence of Ireland, we request that public meetings be held in your several districts to form councils of the alliance and thereby enable the work of organization to proceed.

We suggest that no more appropriate date for the holding of such meetings can be fixed than Saturday, the 23d of November next, a day rendered sacred to the cause of Irish independence by the martyrdom of Allian, Larkin and O'Brien 25 years ago.

Charters for councils can be obtained by applying to the secretary of the Irish National alliance.

Horse-shoers in Session.

DENVER, Oct. 15.—Some 200 horse-shoers from all parts of the country have arrived in the city to attend the convention of the Horse-shoers' National Protective association. The work of the convention is largely in the line of scientific discussion of interest to the trade. Several noted veterinary surgeons and instructors will make addresses.

Sultan Accepts With a Reservation.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Times says: The sultan accepts the reduced scheme of reforms in principle, but declines to promulgate it forthwith because such acceptance would look like acting under pressure.

The French government is in charge of the undertaking, and the ambassador will communicate an official intimation of his government to the United States and to individual exhibitors to take part in the exposition.

PARIS EXPOSITION

On a Scale That Will Reflect Credit on the French Republic.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Ambassador Motteau has returned from France with a large fund of information concerning the international exposition of 1867, which is to be held in Paris on a scale befitting the advent of a new century. The French government is in charge of the undertaking, and the ambassador will communicate an official intimation of his government to the United States and to individual exhibitors to take part in the exposition.

Will Be Granted Faster Mail Service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Postmaster General Wilson said yesterday that the quest of the Detroit and Michigan people for faster mail service will be granted. If a faster service can not be secured over American lines the mailmen and clerks will be carried over ocean lines. Mr. Wilson added that he is ample authority to do so.

To Test a State Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—In the United States supreme court a motion was made by Attorney General Hendricks of Kentucky to adjudge the case of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company against the state of Kentucky, involving the constitutionality of a state law prohibiting one railroad company from owning other lines.

Records Broken.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—"Mary" Anderson and "Red" Van Herrick, on a tame, broke the record of 151 3-5 made recently at Waltham by McDuffie and Lester. Time, 151. They continued and closed the following records: 2 miles, 303 4-5; three miles, 60:10; five miles, 10:18.

Will Celebrate Her Birthday.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 15.—Milwaukee's semi-centennial jubilee will be celebrated on Friday and Thursday. Already houses, public buildings and trees are draped, and all plans are completed.

Numerously Attended.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—Nearly 1,000 guests and twice as many men other than members are in the city to attend the annual meeting of the National Anti-Saloon League.

Decline in Crop.

DALLAS, Oct. 15.—Jack Crews was hanged yesterday afternoon at Denton for the murder of the Merrill family in April, 1893. Crews was destroyed by fire. Total loss about $10,000; partially insured.

Died Protecting the Innocence.

DALLAS, Oct. 15.—Jack Crews was hanged yesterday afternoon at Denton for the murder of the Merrill family in April, 1893. Crews made a short speech protesting that he was innocent.

THE QUEEN ASSASSINATED.

The King's Father Known to Have Been in the Plot.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A special dispatch from Seoul, Korea, says: The palace was broken into on Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock by a body of Korean troops and a band of Japanese Soshi in civilian dress. The colonel in command of the troops, on refusing to enter the palace, was killed and a number of the palace guards were slain. The Japanese entered the queen's room and killed the queen, the minister of the household and three women. The bodies were taken outside and burned. The Japanese troops were at the palace, but took no part in the proceedings.

Tai Wu Kun, the king's father, reached the palace soon after the assault and assumed the chief authority. He is now dictator and is known to have been in the plot. The pro-Japanese party are now in control. Many of the queen's party have been arrested and many more have fled. It is believed that the queen dowager was killed last night, and that the king will be forced to abdicate.

Guards from the United States warship Yorktown and a Russian cruiser have been ordered up. Great excitement prevails. It is thought that the butchery will hasten action on the part of the Russians.

SEVENTY-SIX PASSENGERS HURT.

Train on the Norfolk and Western Road

Goes Into a Ditch.

ELKHORN, W. Va., Oct. 15.—A passenger train on the Norfolk and Western road was wrecked by a broken frog between Bluefield and Kenova. The baggage and mail car and the second class coach were thrown from the track and then ditched.

Seventy-six passengers were in the car and all were more or less injured.

P. P. Dillon, mayor of Pocahontas, W. Va., was badly hurt, also R. L. Coney, of Greenbrier Coal company, and F. L. Shaffer, baggage master. All the wounded passengers were taken to Pocahontas for medical attendance.

WHAT THE FOUR HUNDRED SAY.

Probability of a Reconciliation Between Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 15.—It has become almost an accepted rumor among the members of the "four hundred" of New York that a reconciliation is probable between Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, and that immediately following the marriage of their daughter Consuelo with the duke of Marlborough a second ceremony will unite the parents a second time in matrimony.

The marriage of Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt with the duke of Marlborough is recognized as more the wish and desire of her father than of her mother, and this union has been used by the friends of both parents to bring about a happy understanding between them. In the settlement of the marriage contracts, the Duke of Marlborough is understood to have received $3,000,000, and an additional $10,000,000 was settled on Miss Consuelo.

JOHN L'S SPEECH.

He Wishes Corbett Success With a Strong String to It.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 15.—At a benefit boxing exhibition for the ex-champion given last night Sullivan said:

I am a pretty good old "has been." I have always made mistakes but I have a warm heart. I have always been an American. When foreigners came here to fight I did not go to a newspaper office to put up money and talk through the newspapers. But the newspapers have always treated me kindly and I don't want to say anything against them. I have never been defeated but once and that was by the present champion. I wish him success, but I wish to say this now, I am not his friend.

RAILWAY TRAINMEN.

Committee of Brotherhood Accepts People as Permanent Headquarters.

GALESBURG, Ills., Oct. 15.—The committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen that has been considering bids for the permanent headquarters of that organization has accepted the bid of Peoria, Ills. Peoria takes the printing plant here off the hands of the brotherhood, gives a bonus of $3,750 and promises interest on daily balances in the bank. The committee's decision must be submitted to a vote of the subordinate lodges, but Grand Master Morrissey says there is no doubt of its ratification.

WANT MORE MONEY.

Farmers in the Northwest Holding Back Wheat For Higher Prices.

DULUTH, Oct. 15.—There is no doubt that northwestern farmers are holding back their wheat on account of low prices prevailing and marketing their coarse grain instead. For several days past the receipts of wheat in this market have fallen below those of last year. Receivers say that offerings are daily growing lighter and daily sales here support the statement.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

Reduced to Beggary Through a Loss As-sociation's Failure.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Ferdinand Meier, a retired general of the German army, committed suicide on the Thames embankment by taking prussic acid. He had become reduced to beggary through the failure of Jabez Balfour's Liberator Building and Loan company, in which all of his money was invested.

The Man Poisoned Them.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—It is announced that it has been determined upon the strictest medical authority that seven of the victims of the Sabula, Ia., poisonings, horrof died and some are still suffering from the deadly trichinae infection.

At a Standstill.

GLASGOW, Oct. 15.—Business is at a standstill in the Scotch steel and kindred trades owing to the uncertainty whether, if the shipbuilding strike spreads the Clyde steel works will have to reduce production.

Great Race Dead.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 15.—Mannie Gray, the famous thoroughbred brood mare by Enquirer, dam of Domino, Correction and other great racers, died at Major B. G. Thomas' farm Sunday morning of heart disease.

Record Broken.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—"Mary" Anderson and "Red" Van Herrick, on a tame, broke the record of 151 3-5 made recently at Waltham by McDuffie and Lester. Time, 151. They continued and closed the following records: 2 miles, 303 4-5; three miles, 60:10; five miles, 10:18.

Will Celebrate Her Birthday.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 15.—Milwaukee's semi-centennial jubilee will be celebrated on Friday and Thursday. Already houses, public buildings and trees are draped, and all plans are completed.

Numerously Attended.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—Nearly 1,000 guests and twice as many men other than members are in the city to attend the annual meeting of the National Anti-Saloon League.

Decline in Crop.

DALLAS, Oct. 15.—Jack Crews was hanged yesterday afternoon at Denton for the murder of the Merrill family in April, 1893. Crews was destroyed by fire. Total loss about $10,000; partially insured.

Died Protecting the Innocence.

DALLAS, Oct. 15.—Jack Crews was hanged yesterday afternoon at Denton for the murder of the Merrill family in April, 1893. Crews made a short speech protesting that he was innocent.

THE QUEEN ASSASSINATED.

The King's Father Known to Have Been in the Plot.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A special dispatch from Seoul, Korea, says: The palace was broken into on Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock by a body of Korean troops and a band of Japanese Soshi in civilian dress. The colonel in command of the troops, on refusing to enter the palace, was killed and a number of the palace guards were slain. The Japanese entered the queen's room and killed the queen, the minister of the household and three women. The bodies were taken outside and burned. The Japanese troops were at the palace, but took no part in the proceedings.

Tai Wu Kun, the king's father, reached the palace soon after the assault and assumed the chief authority. He is now dictator and is known to have been in the plot. The pro-Japanese party are now in control. Many of the queen's party have been arrested and many more have fled. It is believed that the queen dowager was killed last night, and that the king will be forced to abdicate.

Guards from the United States warship Yorktown and a Russian cruiser have been ordered up. Great excitement prevails. It is thought that the butchery will hasten action on the part of the Russians.

SEVENTY-SIX PASSENGERS HURT.

Train on the Norfolk and Western Road

Goes Into a Ditch.

ELKHORN, W. Va., Oct. 15.—A passenger train on the Norfolk and Western road was wrecked by a broken frog between Bluefield and Kenova. The baggage and mail car and the second class coach were thrown from the track and then ditched.

Seventy-six passengers were in the car and all were more or less injured.

P. P. Dillon, mayor of Pocahontas, W. Va., was badly hurt, also R. L. Coney, of Greenbrier Coal company, and F. L. Shaffer, baggage master. All the wounded passengers were taken to Pocahontas for medical attendance.

WHAT THE FOUR HUNDRED SAY.

Probability of a Reconciliation Between Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 15.—It has become almost an accepted rumor among the members of the "four hundred" of New York that a reconciliation is probable between Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, and that immediately following the marriage of their daughter Consuelo with the duke of Marlborough a second ceremony will unite the parents a second time in matrimony.

The marriage of Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt with the duke of Marlborough is recognized as more the wish and desire of her father than of her mother, and this union has been used by the friends of both parents to bring about a happy understanding between them. In the settlement of the marriage contracts, the Duke of Marlborough is understood to have received $3,000,000, and an additional $10,000,000 was settled on Miss Consuelo.

JOHN L'S SPEECH.

He Wishes Corbett Success With a Strong String to It.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 15.—At a benefit boxing exhibition for the ex-champion given last night Sullivan said:

I am a pretty good old "has been."

I have always made mistakes but I have a warm heart. I have always been an American. When foreigners came here to fight I did not go to a newspaper office to put up money and talk through the newspapers. But the newspapers have always treated me kindly and I don't want to say anything against them. I have never been defeated but once and that was by the present champion. I wish him success, but I wish to say this now, I am not his friend.

WHAT THE FOUR HUNDRED SAY.

Probability of a Reconciliation Between Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 15.—It has become almost an accepted rumor among the members of the "four hundred" of New York that a reconciliation is probable between Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, and that immediately following the marriage of their daughter Consuelo with the duke of Marlborough a second ceremony will unite the parents a second time in matrimony.

The marriage of Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt with the duke of Marlborough is recognized as more the wish and desire of her father than of her mother, and this union has been used by the friends of both parents to bring about a happy understanding between them. In the settlement of the marriage contracts, the Duke of Marlborough is understood to have received $

A HISTORIC CHURCH.

INTERESTING ANNALS OF DR TALMAGE'S NEW CHARGE.

The First Presbyterian Church of Washington has had many famous statesmen among its members - for forty years Dr. Sunderland has been its pastor.

Although Dr. Talmage, who is soon to begin his ministrations at the First Presbyterian church at Washington, is probably better known to more people than any other American minister, his predecessor, the Rev. Byron Sunderland, D. D., who will also be his coadjutor, was probably the regular pastor of a much larger number of prominent persons than Dr. Talmage or indeed any other American minister. Dr. Sunderland went to the First Presbyterian church in 1852, and the fortieth anniversary of his first sermon there was celebrated on Feb. 5, 1893. Only four besides him were present who were also present on the Sunday he began his labors there. Then he was a young man. His hair was dark, and his eyes were bright. Now he is an old man, but his eyes still sparkle. His voice is yet round and full, and, although it has been found necessary to divide his work, his popularity with his congregation is still so great that his leaving is not to be thought of.

Four presidents—Jackson, Pierce, Polk and Cleveland—have sat under his ministrations. Singularly enough, they

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, WASHINGTON have all been Democrats. When Dr. Sunderland began his pastorate, the part of the city in which the First church stands was the most fashionable in all Washington. It is not so now, and there was some surprise when President Cleveland selected it as his favorite house of worship. Perhaps he was so moved because he had heard the doctor preach nearly 50 years ago at Fayetteville, N. Y., near Syracuse, where the Rev. Stephen Cleveland was then displaced as pastor by Dr. Sunderland. At all events, it is certain that Grover Cleveland, then but a lad, was greatly impressed by the Rev. Mr. Sunderland's first sermon at Fayetteville. Its subject was the fidelity of the eagles in watching over their young.

There is nothing showy about the First Presbyterian church of Washington. It is a square box, plain and severe in all its lines. The singing is congregational, but is led by a quartet composed of young men whose music reminds the listener of a college glee club. Dr. Sunderland's sermons have been long, but not dull, for he is a sensible man and possesses a fund of dry Scotch humor which the president much appreciates. Out of the pulpit the doctor is companionable and pleasant, and his popularity with his acquaintances is not exceeded by any Washington pastor.

Although, as stated, the First Presbyterian church edifice still retains its simple lines of architecture, it has been enlarged by the addition of a second story and is now lighted by electricity, while its aged and infirm attendants are relieved of climbing stairs by an elevator, which was put in some years ago. Immediately before and during the civil war this church was the acknowledged center of Union sentiment in the nation's capital, and the loyalty of the pastor to the federal government aroused extremely bitter hostility on the part of some of the church members. In 1866, when Frederick Douglass secured the use of the church for a lecture on the assassination of Lincoln, the street in front came near being the scene of a riot. Chief Justice Chase presided at that lecture, and several members of the congregation withdrew from the church because of it. In explaining why he consented to the use of the church for that purpose Dr. Sunderland said:

"Douglass' lecture was really the oasis of free speech for the negroes, and there was no roof but that of the First Presbyterian church to shelter him."

During the early years of the civil war Dr. Sunderland's exertions were so severe that in 1863 he broke down completely and went abroad, spending some time in Paris, where he took charge of the American chapel. It is understood that he offered then to resign, but the Washington congregation refused to have him go and gladly welcomed him back when his health was recovered. His extra work consisted largely of his services as chaplain of the senate and of sermons preached at the military camps around Washington. It was Dr. Sunderland who preached the first sermon to the famous Seventh regiment of New York after its arrival at the capitol. This sermon was preached in the house of representatives, where the regiment was then quartered, and the text was, "Endure hardness as a good soldier."

Naturally enough, Dr. Sunderland's memory is stored with reminiscences of the republic's great men. He lives in the house on C street which was once occupied by General Fremont, the Pathfinder. Seward and Broderick, Chandler and Sumner sat under his ministrations in their day, and Stewart, Tocsey, Webster and Benton were all his neighbors. Besides he has been personally acquainted with almost every prominent American statesman for the last four decades, and he pronounced the words that made Grover Cleveland and Frances Folsom one.

THE LISTENER.

Sam Jones, the reprobate smokes 15 cigars a day.

For the Lord's sake, Harry, is this the end of a Texas cowboy?

James R. Keene, the owner of Donisthorpe, sits outside a bar in his youth.

Lord Brougham's full name is Sir William Thomas Wyndham Quint, K. P.

John Bigham, Ph. D., of the University of Michigan, has been elected professor of philosophy in De Paul's university.

General Nelson A. Miles was once a boy in a grocery store in Boston. It was his first military instruction from a Frenchman.

Maitland Aykrill, boat builder of Toronto, has rescued over 40 persons from drowning since 1873 and recovered eight bodies from the bay.

The Rev. Mas Kazoo Tan, a Japanese Episcopal clergyman, died for his scholarship, will soon visit this country to study American civilization.

Marshall Field of Chicago it is said made more money out of merchandise last year than any other man in the world, his net profits amounting to $7,000,000.

Sir Arthur Eliham Hawley, at present governor of Ceylon will succeed Lord Wenlock as governor of Madras. The latter's tenure of office expires in December.

E. A. Schulz, a young millionaire of Orange, N. J., smokes cigarettes which cost him $75 a thousand! They are short and fat and embossed with his monogram.

Fred Hovey, the new tennis champion, is an all-round athlete and a very creditable baseball player having been a member of both the Harvard and Brown university teams.

Hamilton Nicholas of New South Wales is said to be the oldest resident of that country. His age is 127 years, and he was 93 years old when he emigrated to that country from England.

Sir Knight Isaac Mass of Vincennes, Ind., was one of the oldest Masons in Boston. He is 85 and is a thirty-second degree Mason. He stood the fatigue of the parade remarkably well.

Henry M. Stanley's method of parliamentary speaking is bluff, earnest and slightly declamatory. He has no sense of humor, but fortifies himself well with facts and statistics before he speaks.

Christopher Columbus, a direct descendant of the great Genoese navigator, is in Cuba, fighting for Spain. He is a sub-lieutenant of the Second Battalion Peninsular troops of the line, and a nephew of the Duke of Veragua.

John I. Blair, the New Jersey railroad king, who has over $25,000,000 invested in western railroads, boasts that he has never bought a road merely for speculation and that none of his money has been made by building or buying stocks.

Speaker Gully of the English house of commons has a pet bulldog, by which he lays great store. The dog has had several misadventures in London streets and kindly frightened nervous people, but the speaker declined to give him up.

George Brown, colored, a native of Virginia, has a certificate from his former master, setting forth that he was born in 1764. Brown lives in New Orleans. He says that he blacked George Washington's boots and litigated his cigars.

THE SHORTER CAMPAIGN.

A brisk and lively campaign of 60 days is ample—Champaign Gazette.

It is not likely that there will be much opposition to the proposition for a short and sharp campaign—Albany Journal.

With a short campaign orators who work for wages would hardly acquire enough to last them two years—Milwaukee Journal.

There is no reason why the disturbance should be kept up throughout five or six months at the enormous expense of time and money usual to such contests.—Kaukauna City Journal.

The time and money cost to the people of long campaigns is in the aggregate something enormous, and this cost is about in proportion to the length of an active campaign—Des Moines News.

The common people have become befuddled and demoralized by a string of four months of oratory and the exertion of a never ending round of rallies, torchlight parades and neighborhood discussions. A "change" is demanded—South Bend Tribune.

If three months could be taken off the campaign, there is no doubt that the expenses would be considerably decreased, though, as a matter of fact, the oratorical part of the canvass does not usually begin until after the hot summer weather has passed.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

POINTS OF LAW.

Where nothing is said as to the manner in which a contract is to be performed it will be presumed that it is to be done in a proper and skillful manner.

In an action for false warranty in the sale of a machine, the party is entitled only to damages arising from the fraud and cannot recover interest or insurance on such machine.

A director who buys at a discount a debt of a corporation, without advising it of the opportunity, will be considered as buying for the corporation and can collect from it only the amount he paid.

Property in the hands of a common carrier in transit to a place outside of the state is not subject to garnishment although it is yet within the state at the time of the service of the garnishee summons.

Dress may consist of one's goods as well as of his person, and an action may be maintained when one is compelled to submit to an illegal exaction in order to obtain his goods from one who has them but refuses to surrender them unless the exaction is endured—Latest Decisions of the Highest Courts.

WHEEL WHIRLS.

Paper made by a new material used in constructing bicycles and it seems that the wear and tear of heavy road work very well.

In a Wisconsin village recently a funeral procession was very largely made up of men and women on bicycles, the deceased having been a member of a bicycle club.

It is estimated that a man weighing 150 pounds riding a bicycle at the rate of seven miles an hour has a mass of 1,000 pounds, leaving 1/2 of the weight of the wheel, 47.5 pounds, or enough to upset a pedlar man with 100 lbs. force.

A curious point in the case of a bicycle has been pointed out by E. S. Souter, writing for the Commercial Advertiser, series of Our Far Bards. The bars are arranged so that they may be simultaneously indicated.

BOWSER'S BALLOON.

HE TOYS WITH IT IN ORDER TO SAVE HIS LIFE.

An Exercise Which, However, Was Not So Satisfactory As It Might Have Been Closing Remarks Made by a Neighbor and Mrs. Bowser.

"Now what are you going to do?" queried Mrs. Bowser as dinner was finished the other evening and Mr. Bowser removed coat, vest, collar and necktie.

"Mrs. Bowser," he solemnly replied, "as he returned from the front hall with a pasture boy in his hand, "it's no wonder that medicine doesn't do us any good! The wonder is that we are not in our graves!"

"But we are not ailing. We don't need medicine!"

"We don't, eh? I haven't said anything to you about it because I didn't want to hasten the climax by scaring you half to death, but as a matter of fact the pair of us have been heading for the tomb at a gallop for the last six months! I wouldn't say anything about it now only I think I have found the remedy."

"Remedy? Why, I thought both of us were in perfect health!"

"What you thought and what was and is are three different things, Mrs. Bowser. Here is what the doctor recommended for both of us."

"A toy balloon! Are we to eat it, smell of it, or what?"

"No, ma'am, we are not to eat of it, smell of it or what! If you had done less gadding and more reading, you might have heard of the Delsarte movement. You might have heard that this little balloon has been the means of drawing thousands of people back from the yawning grave."

"Oh, yes; you let it float around the room and follow it up and strike it! I was reading in the paper the other day about how many people had broken their arms and legs and necks. You think you need the Delsarte movement, do you?"

"I don't think anything about it, but know it!" hotly exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he rolled up his shirt sleeves. "If you want to sit around and die for the want of a little common sense exercise, all right, but I propose to regain my lost health and live on as long as I can. The Delsarte movement is the simplest and most beneficial of all athletics. I permit the balloon to float away—like that. Then I step forward and strike it—like this."

"Mercy on me, but you'll knock the whole house down!" exclaimed Mrs. Bowser as she clattered rattled and a vase toppled off a bracket. "Let me get out with the baby! If some one should try to come home and play ball with dynamite bombs, I suppose you'd like this, yan being into play the masses of the neck, shoulder, arm and leg. That. Then I step forward and strike it—like this."

"Nonsense, eh?" shouted Mr. Bowser as he jumped forward and led with his left and kicked a chair over. "That's what you want to sit around and die for the want of a little common sense exercise, all right, but I propose to regain my lost health and live on as long as I can. The Delsarte movement is the simplest and most beneficial of all athletics. I permit the balloon to float away—like that. Then I step forward and strike it—like this."

"Mercy on me, but you'll knock the whole house down!" exclaimed Mrs. Bowser as she clattered rattled and a vase toppled off a bracket. "Let me get out with the baby! If some one should try to come home and play ball with dynamite bombs, I suppose you'd like this, yan being into play the masses of the neck, shoulder, arm and leg. That. Then I step forward and strike it—like this."

"Nothing! When I want you, I'll knock on the door."

Mrs. Bowser retreated, and he gathered up the fragments of the broken globe and deposited them on a chair, and squared off to his work again, saying:

"I dunno who old Delsarte was, but he was a coker on exercise. Couldn't have started a movement better calculated to bring out all the—"

He simply knocked over a rocking chair and brought down a stand as he made a vigorous spring, but Mrs. Bowser's head appeared to view again, and she demanded:

"Are you going to wreck the whole house, Mr. Bowser?"

"Who's wrecking anything? I think I've a right to move about in my own house in search of health. Go back and sit down and wait for consumption and the grave!"

Young Bowser began howling, and his mother withdrew to quiet him. Mr. Bowser lifted up the stand and chair and wiped the perspiration from his forehead and got ready for more health. He felt that he ought to have a little more leg exercise with it, and he blew the balloon away from him and then raised for it. His leg were doing nobly when his toe struck a hocksock and he took a header. What occurred during the next 15 minutes will never be clear to him. He knew his head struck the library door and busted a panel, but after that was blank. When he opened his eyes, there was a wet towel on his forehead, a camphor bath at his nose, and three or four of the neighbors were in the house. In a faraway voice he heard Mr. Henderson say:

"It is curious what a fool a man will make of himself over these fads! He'll have a sore head for the next three months."

And in another faraway voice he heard Mrs. Bowser reply:

"I tried to argue with him, but it was no use. Of course his lawyer will see my lawyer in the morning and argue about the divorce and alimony."

"—M. Quad in Detroit Free Press.

Beall's Raid.

Sept. 19, 1861.

A most startling drama was enacted on Lake Erie, in a degree, the daring

Confederate attempt to seize the north in border. One of the chief actors, John Y. Beall, had led the daring life of a "swamp hogger" on the lower Potowmack.

He was to manage the affairs of the enterprise while Captain Cole of Morgan's raiders operated on Lake Erie.

Beall was at Sandusky, O., and under took to prepare the prisoners on Johnson's island for an outbreak and to baffle the others and crew of the United States gunboat Michigan, the sole defender of the waters, rendering him an easy captive for Beall. Beall drummed up a crew of 19 Confederate refugees in Canada, taking passage upon the passing boat Philo Parsons, plying between Detroit and Sandusky, sited

the vessel in open sea. The passengers, many of whom were Union soldiers, were set ashore and the vessel headed directly for the gunboat Michigan.

The raiders had equipped themselves with cutlasses, revolvers and carbines with the purpose of boarding the Michigan at a signal from Cole.

Cole was to advance by rocket that the crew had been "fixed" for resistance.

Steaming up within cannon range of the ship, Beall awaited the signal, which he was to answer by a cannon shot from the gunboat.

But the gunboat had not been seen, and the raiders were surprised to find the gunboat

had been sent to the rear of the gunboat.

Beall was to fire a rocket at the gunboat.

But the gunboat had not been

seen, and the raiders were surprised to find the gunboat

had been sent to the rear of the gunboat.

Beall was to fire a rocket at the gunboat.

But the gunboat had not been

seen, and the raiders were

surprised to find the gunboat

Full Dress Furnishings.

Our line of Full Dress novelties this season is especially large.

PULL DRESS LAWN NECKWEAR—Fourteen different styles, including all the latest shapes in Lawns and String Ties.

FULL DRESS BREAKRIGHT SHIRT—The only shirt with a nine inch wide bosom which will not bulge out, break or rumple.

FULL DRESS KID GLOVES—Colors white or pearl, two buttons—the proper thing for full dress.

FULL DRESS COLLARS AND CUFFS, HOSIERY, SUSPENDERS, JEWELRY.

KLEINMAIERS,
The Outfitters.

THE DAILY STAR.

By W. G. HARDING.

Founded in 1877. Reestablished 1884.

ISSUED EVERY EVENING EXCEPT SUNDAY

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Single Copy
Delivered by Carrier 10¢ per week.
By Mail, Postage Paid, $4.00 per year.
Weekly Edition $1.00 per year

Entered at the Postoffice at Marion, Ohio,
as second-class matter.

Persons desiring the DAILY STAR delivered to their homes can secure it by postal card request, or by order through telephone No. 51.
Prompt complaint of irregular service is requested.

COUNTING ROOM TELEPHONE 51.

Advertising rates on application. The STAR guarantees its advertisers more than double the circulation of any daily paper in Marion or the Thirteenth Congressional District, and the largest weekly circulation in Marion County.

EIGHT PAGES.

TUESDAY - - - OCTOBER 15

In England they "stand" for office. In this country they run—more or less.

Geewhillikins, a cold winter is before us! The goosebone is nearly all white this year.

The political carpenters are having their busy days just now. There are so many campaign lies to nail.

Let's see. This was to have been a clean campaign, wasn't it? No personalities. But, perhaps, indiscriminately calling candidates and politicians liars is not particularly personal.

Seventy per cent. of prominent Wisconsin Republicans have expressed their preference for McKinley for president. The other thirty per cent. are divided among Reed, Allison and Harrison.

The farmers in national conference at Atlanta Monday had something to say on the money question. A resolution was adopted petitioning congress to enact laws preserving the parity of gold and silver.

The piece of timber that was used to batter down the door of the court house at Washington C. H. during the riot was lugged into the Circleville court room Monday by eight men. It will be used as evidence in the Court trial.

The Democrats want another rally at Marion before the campaign closes and will go after some big guns for the occasion. The great regret, however, among the local political leaders, is that there is not a hall that will accommodate a crowd of respectable size.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight. Dates were mixed in making this announcement on Monday. The meeting is at 7:30 this evening. The event is of considerable interest to Republicans, for they have not had an active club in several years. The older men in the party are wanted as well as the young men.

The report comes that there is a probability that Willie K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Vanderbilt will kiss and make up and will wed again. This is all brought about by the coming marriage of their daughter with the Duke of Marlborough, who is said to get $140,000 by the marriage contract, while an additional $10,000 has been settled on Miss Consuelo. Now let us all try and be happy.

Governor Clarke says the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight must not take place in Arkansas. When there was first talk of taking the fight to Hot Springs the Governor apparently did not regard the matter very seriously, and left the im-

WAS GIVEN A TEST.

THE NEW CHEMICAL ENGINE DOES SATISFACTORY WORK

Chief Fies Experiments with an Old Dwelling House—The New Apparatus Will Certainly Add To the Facilities of the Department.

The new chemical engine and hose wagon was given a test this morning, about as severe a test as could be demanded of any fire extinguisher.

Arrangements were made with Mrs. Timothy Kelly to experiment with the old Hogan house, belonging to her, on the corner of Cherry and Columbia streets, which has been an eyesore to the people in the neighborhood of that corner for many months and rendezvous for burns all summer.

The Star had been informed that the test would take place at 9 o'clock, but more difficulty was experienced in getting the old house to burn than was expected and it was 9:15 when Chief Fies gave the signal to make the run.

The chemical engine had been stationed just north of the intersection of Church and Orchard streets and as Chief Fies blew his whistle Driver Sam Breece let his team out.

The run to the corner of Columbia and Orchard streets was made in forty-nine seconds and there Breece slowed up to turn the corner and to allow the line of hose to be pulled out to connect with the water plug. Six seconds after the engine was in front of the burning building.

Mr. Thomas, who represented the manufacturers of the new engine, did not seem to be in much of a hurry and ordered the engine around to the Cherry street side of the building.

Very leisurely Mr. Thomas pulled the chemical hose off the reel while Driver Breece turned over the chemical tank and just one minute and fifty-eight seconds after the start was made from Church street the chemical was playing on the burning building which was a mass of flames inside and out and the roof and top of the sides all burned.

Chief Fies took the nozzle and in a moment demonstrated the fact that the chemical was a great success as it instantly extinguished the fire wherever the chemicals were thrown.

After the headway of the flames had been gotten pretty thoroughly under control the water was turned on and the fire totally extinguished.

The majority of the members of the council and many citizens were present and all expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the test, especially since it was an outside fire, under full headway, and such a blaze as would ordinarily call for a heavy stream of water and for a chemical engine.

The chemical engine is not intended for outside work but to be used in the inside of houses where a fire can be extinguished without all the furniture and furnishings being ruined by water, the nozzle of the hose being provided with a stop-cock with which to regulate or entirely cut off the stream. It will also be handy to use in small fires outside of the water limit.

Chief Fies expressed himself as perfectly satisfied with the engine and stated to the Star man that he had not given the signal until the entire building was a flaming ruin so that it could not be said that a most severe test had not been given.

The wagon is all that could be desired, combining as it does an engine, a hose wagon, and a ladder truck, and will, in all probability, save enough property to pay for it in the succeeding twelve months.

An Old Case Being Tried.

[Columbus Dispatch.]

The case of John F. Uhler vs. E. M. Helwagen came up in Justice Roche's court during the afternoon. The case is an old one, as it is on a claim of $25 and interest, the price of a suit of clothes bought by defendant from plaintiff in August, 1889, in the city of Marion. The plaintiff is now a resident of Akron and a number of depositions were filed in the case. The defendant is a well-known young man who was recently admitted to the bar and who is the captain of company F, Fourteenth regiment.

Tonight, Republicans.

The date for the meeting to organize a Bushnell club is tonight, Tuesday Oct. 15, at republican headquarters, opposite Hotel Marion. Republicans are invited to be present.

and Linen

can be had in new pieces of calico, old or new, old napkins or linen handkerchiefs. In sickness or accident the pieces are worth their weight in gold, and the pieces of linen are good to mend articles with. When drawing threads for draw work, save all the threads, as they make the best possible thing to darn with.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair.

DR.

PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure, fine, clean, Tartar Powder, Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant.

20¢ each Mt. Gilread, O.

Headache Stoppers in every shape by Miles' PAIN PILLS Once eat a dose.

GEORGE VAN BRIMMER DEAD.

Former Marion County Citizen Dies at His Home in Delaware.

George Van Brimmer died at his home in Delaware Monday evening at 6 o'clock, of pleuro-pneumonia. The deceased had long been a resident of Marion county, being at one time identified with the milling business in this city.

In 1855 he came to this county from Millville, now Warrensburg, Delaware county, and resided in this county until 1871, at which time he went to St. Elmo, Ill., where he engaged successfully in the milling business for about five years. He then returned to near his old birth place and engaged in farming. Two years ago he bought property in Delaware and was living a retired life enjoying the fruits of his industry.

Mr. Van Brimmer won the esteem and respect of all with whom he came in contact. He was a thoroughly honest business man and Christian gentleman, carrying his religion with him in his every day business. He leaves a wife and one son, four brothers and four sisters and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

Funeral will take place at his late residence on north Liberty street, Delaware, at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

A NEW BRIDGE.

The Commissioners Contract for One at LaRue.

Bids were opened and the contract let this afternoon for a new steel bridge across the Scioto at LaRue. The bridge is to be 130 feet in length and eighteen feet in width and was let by the county commissioners to the Canton Bridge company for $8550.

The Massillon Bridge company bid $175, the Variety Iron Works, of Cleveland, $1100, the Ohio Bridge company, of Cincinnati, $1500, the King Bridge company, of Cleveland, $1432, the Youngstown Bridge company, $1075, the Brackett Bridge company of Cincinnati, $1200, the Columbus Bridge company, plan 1, $1275, plan 2, $2950, the Indiana Bridge company, of Muncie, four bids, the lowest of which was $1022, the Buchanan Bridge company, of Bellefontaine, $1015, and Chas. C. Morrison, of Cincinnati, $4077.

RAILROAD NOTES

Supt. Reynolds and Master Mechanic Hawthorne, of the C. & E., were in the city today.

For the first week in October the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking shows the following earnings: 1894, $23,398.01; 1895, $21,167.20; increase, $2,210.81.

The Columbus Journal makes a note of number of Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo excursions that will be run Saturday night. At 11 o'clock p.m., a special will be run from Columbus to Marion, as an accommodation to those desiring to attend the Republican rally or the theaters.

To Cut Stick.

To "cut stick," a euphemism for running away, is an expression found not only in English, but also in French, German, Italian and Spanish. It is supposed to refer to the practice among travelers of cutting a staff from a hedge or tree before beginning a journey.

THE TATTERL.

Countess Castellane (see Anna Gould) joined the ranks of Paris-women yesterday.

Mrs. Faure, wife of the president of France, is opposed to the use of breeches by women.

Miss Susan B. Anthony will spend her vacation years in literary work at her home in Rochester.

Miss Mary, 6, of Lyndon, Vermont, who she thinks an artist, should not attempt to claim as a society woman.

Miss Alice French (Octave Thané's) is a Yankee by birth, partly of Virginia lineage, an Iowan by adoption and a southerner by choice.

Kate Field is not a northern woman. She is a native of St. Louis, where she was born one fine day in June in the ever memorable year 1868.

Mrs. Henry Rutledge of Cheyenne, Mich., was attacked and slightly gored by a savage bull. She caught the animal by the nose-ring and managed to hold on until help came.

Mrs. Julia L. Desarp, who died at Lyons Falls, N. Y., recently, was the owner of a whole township in the Empire State. It is known as Townhip Seven and is in Herkimer county.

Mrs. H. C. Cosgrave of Joplin, Mo., has organized a lead mining company known as the Helen Mine Mining and Development company. All the offices and stockholders are women. The labor is done by men.

Miss Irene Langhorne, the fiancee of Mr. G. C. Gibson, the artist, is faring her last days throughout the south. She is one of the four southern beauties commonly known as Washington girls as "Fair Graves."

The first woman to preach in a Jewish temple in San Francis was Miss Rachel Frank, who occupied the pulpit in the Emanuel synagogue on a recent Saturday and spoke on "The Relation of History to the Present."

Princess Pauline Metternich, niece of the famous Rothschild, to Paris and the more famous Princess Pauline, Josy wife, has just made her first appearance as a violinist at a charity concert at Marienburg. She is only 15 years old.

Mrs. Helen M. Gould has founded two scholarships in New York university in memory of her father, Jay Gould. The scholarships are open only to persons living on the Missouri Pacific system, and each has an endowment of $5,000, expected to yield $250 annually.

Mrs. Frances E. Benedict of Philadelphia, who has died at the age of 60, was for years a well known newspaper writer. She was one of the first to make a business of writing advertisements for the big dry goods houses. She was a member of the famous 75 club of Philadelphia and gave valuable assistance to the directors of the Centennial exposition.

Advanced.

Madge—I remember a few years ago that she was seeking a hero.

Muriel—She's got bravely over that. She's now on the lookout for a fool with plenty of money.—Life.

Galton Inquirer: Private telegrams were received in this city Saturday night announcing the sad death of Ed Newhouse, a former Erie brakeman, but recently and up to the time of the accident farming at Wauseon. There are two stories as to how the accident occurred but both agree that he was accidentally shot by his milkman, Roy Stephens, about 5 o'clock Saturday evening, and died almost instantly.

Columbus Journal: At the last meeting of the executive committee of the Hocking Valley Mutual Benefit association, the following accident claims were allowed: James Kennedy, engineer, $10.70; John Geary, fireman, $10; Herbert Clark, section man, $12.80; James Kilbourne, wood worker, $25; Nick Snider, laborer, $10; Henry Kohler, brakeman, $10; James Kile, yard brakeman, $15; Matthew McCabe, car repairer, $5; J. A. Lackey, fireman, $10; Frank Smith, conductor, $21.10; also the following death benefits ordered paid: Mrs. Anna Higgins, $500; Mrs. Elizabeth Shugert, $500; and Mrs. Rebecca Torrey, $500.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, the Salvation Army leader, presented a permit signed by William Buchanan, superintendent of motive power of the New York Central, to Engineer Canfield just before pulling out of Poughkeepsie, entitling Mrs. Booth and a companion to ride on the engine from Poughkeepsie to Albany. She and her companion were assisted to a seat in the engine and made the trip. On leaving the engine at Albany she thanked the engineer and said that her reason for wishing to ride on the locomotive was to see the technical side of a railroad man's life, so she would be better able to sympathize with him in his work. Mr. Booth is just starting on a tour West visiting Salvation Army posts.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, the Salvation Army leader, presented a permit signed by William Buchanan, superintendent of motive power of the New York Central, to Engineer Canfield just before pulling out of Poughkeepsie, entitling Mrs. Booth and a companion to ride on the engine from Poughkeepsie to Albany. She and her companion were assisted to a seat in the engine and made the trip. On leaving the engine at Albany she thanked the engineer and said that her reason for wishing to ride on the locomotive was to see the technical side of a railroad man's life, so she would be better able to sympathize with him in his work. Mr. Booth is just starting on a tour West visiting Salvation Army posts.

Gentlemen's Fine Laundry Work a Specialty. Office and Works

230 EAST CENTER ST.

Phone 87. J. C. ANTHONY, Prop.

Everyone

Can buy railroad tickets at cut rate of W. J. Wiant the Ticket Broker, in Wiant's Bookstore.

Phone 138.

Call box in store for hack and baggage line.

Coal?

..... Yep!

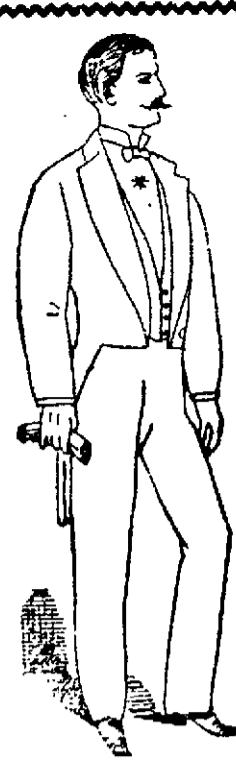

Quality?

..... Firstclass!

Prices?

..... All right!

HALEY BROS?

Full Dress Furnishings.

Our line of Full Dress novelties this season is especially large.

FULL DRESS LAWN NECKWEAR—Fourteen different styles, including all the latest shapes in Lawns and String Ties.

FULL DRESS BREAKRIGHT SHIRT—The only shirt with nine inch wide bosom which will not bulge out, break or rumple.

FULL DRESS KID GLOVES—Colors white or pearl, two buttons—the proper thing for full dress.

FULL DRESS COLLARS AND CUFFS, HOSIERY, SUSPENDERS, JEWELRY.

KLEINMAIERS,
The Outfitters.

THE DAILY STAR.

By W. G. HARDING.

Founded in 1877. Reestablished 1884.

ISSUED EVERY EVENING EXCEPT SUNDAY

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Single Copy 8¢
Delivered by Carrier 10¢ per week.
By Mail, Postage Paid, $4.00 per year.
Weekly Edition $1.00 per year

Entered at the Postoffice at Marion, Ohio,
as second-class matter.

Persons desiring the DAILY STAR delivered to their homes can secure it by postal card request, or by order through telephone No. 51.

Prompt complaint of irregular service is requested.

COUNTING ROOM TELEPHONE 51.

Advertising rates on application. The STAR guarantees its advertisers more than double the circulation of any daily paper in Marion or the Thirteenth Congressional District, and the largest weekly circulation in Marion County.

EIGHT PAGES.

TUESDAY - - - OCTOBER 15

In England they "stand" for office. In this country they run—more or less.

Geewhillikins, a cold winter is before us! The goosebone is nearly all white this year.

The political carpenters are having their busy day just now. There are so many campaign lies to nail.

Let's see. This was to have been a clean campaign, wasn't it? No personalities. But, perhaps, indiscriminately calling candidates and politicians liars is not particularly personal.

Seventy per cent. of prominent Wisconsin Republicans have expressed their preference for McKinley for president. The other thirty per cent. are divided among Reed, Allison and Harrison.

The farmers in national conference at Atlanta Monday had something to say on the money question. A resolution was adopted petitioning congress to enact laws preserving the parity of gold and silver.

The piece of timber that was used to batter down the door of the court house at Washington C. H. during the riot was lugged into the Circleville court room Monday by eight men. It will be used as evidence in the Court trial.

The Democrats want another rally at Marion before the campaign closer and will go after some big guns for the occasion. The great regret, however, among the local political leaders, is that there is not a hall that will accommodate a crowd of respectable size.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight. Dates were mixed in making this announcement on Monday. The meeting is at 7:30 this evening. The event is of considerable interest to Republicans, for they have not had an active club in several years. The older men in the party are wanted as well as the young men.

The report comes that there is a probability that Willie K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Vanderbilt will kiss and make up and will wed again. This is all brought about by the coming marriage of their daughter with the Duke of Marlborough, who is said to get $5,000.00 by the marriage contract, while an additional $10,000.00 has been settled on Miss Consuelo. Now let us all try and be happy.

Governor Clarke says the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight must not take place in Arkansas. When there was first talk of taking the fight to Hot Springs the Governor apparently did not regard the matter very seriously, and left the im-

WAS GIVEN A TEST.

THE NEW CHEMICAL ENGINE DOES SATISFACTORY WORK

Chief Fies Experiments with an Old Dwelling House—The New Apparatus Will Certainly Add To The Facilities of the Department.

The new chemical engine and hose wagon was given a test this morning about as severe a test as could be demanded of any fire extinguisher.

Arrangements were made with Mrs. Timothy Kelly to experiment with the old Hogan house, belonging to her, on the corner of Cherry and Columbia streets, which has been an eyesore to the people in the neighborhood of that corner for many months and a rendezvous for bums all summer.

The Star had been informed that the test would take place at 9 o'clock, but more difficulty was experienced in getting the old house to burn than was expected and it was 9:18 when Chief Fies gave the signal to make the run.

The chemical engine had been stationed just north of the intersection of Church and Orchard streets and as Chief Fies blew his whistle Driver Sam Breeze let his team out.

The run to the corner of Columbia and Orchard streets was made in forty-nine seconds and there Breeze slowed up to turn the corner and to allow the line of hose to be pulled out to connect with the water plug. Six seconds after the engine was in front of the burning building.

Mr. Thomas, who represented the manufacturers of the new engine, did not seem to be in much of a hurry and ordered the engine around to the Cherry street side of the building.

Very leisurely Mr. Thomas pulled the chemical hose off the reel while Driver Breeze turned over the chemical tank and just one minute and fifty-eight seconds after the start was made from Church street the chemical was playing on the burning building which was a mass of flames inside and out and the roof and top of the sides all burned.

Chief Fies took the nozzle and in a moment demonstrated the fact that the chemical was a great success as it instantly extinguished the fire wherever the chemicals were thrown.

After the headway of the flames had been gotten pretty thoroughly under control the water was turned on and the fire totally extinguished.

The majority of the members of the council and many citizens were present and all expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the test, especially since it was an outside fire, under full headway, and such a blaze as would ordinarily call for a heavy stream of water and for a chemical engine.

The chemical engine is not intended for outside work but to be used in the inside of houses where a fire can be extinguished without all the furniture and furnishings being ruined by water, the nozzle of the hose being provided with a stop-cock with which to regulate or entirely cut off the stream. It will also be handy to use in small fires outside of the water limit.

Chief Fies expressed himself as perfectly satisfied with the engine and stated to the Star man that he had not given the signal until the entire building was a flaming ruin so that it could not be said that a most severe test had not been given.

The wagon is all that could be desired, combining as it does an engine, a hose wagon, and a ladder truck, and will, in all probability, save enough property to pay for it in the succeeding twelve months.

An Old Case Being Tried.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

The case of John E. Uhler vs. E. M. Hellwager came up in Justice Roache's court during the afternoon. The case is an old one, as it is on a claim of $25 and interest, the price of a suit of clothes bought by defendant from plaintiff in August, 1889, in the city of Marion. The plaintiff is now residing in Akron and a number of depositions were filed in the case. The defendant is a well-known young man who was recently admitted to the bar and who is the captain of company F. Fourteenth Regiment.

Tonight, Republicans.

The date for the meeting to organize a Bushnell club is tonight, Tuesday, Oct. 15, at republican headquarters, opposite Hotel Marion. Republicans are invited to be present.

Old Tales

Old Bushnell has its uses, pieces of tablecloths, old or new, old napkins or linen napkin-cloths. In sickness or accident they are worth their weight in gold, and the pieces of linen are also good to mend articles with. When drawing threads for drawn work, save all the threads, as they make the best possible thing to darn with.

Awarded

Highest Honors—World's Fair.

DR.

PRICE'S CREAM
BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grade Cream Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant.

40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

GEORGE VAN BRIMMER DEAD.

Former Marion County Citizen Dies At His Home in Delaware.

George Van Brimmer died at his home in Delaware Monday evening at 6 o'clock of pleuro-pneumonia.

The deceased had long been a resident of Marion county, living at one time identified with the milling business in this city.

In 1858 he came to this county from Millville, now Warrensburg, Delaware county, and resided in this county until 1871, at which time he went to St. Elmo, Ill., where he engaged successfully in the milling business for about five years. He then returned to near his old birth place and engaged in farming. Two years ago he bought property in Delaware and was living a retired life enjoying the fruits of his industry.

Mr. Van Brimmer won the esteem and respect of all with whom he came in contact. He was a thoroughly honest business man and Christian gentleman, carrying his religion with him in his every day business. He leaves a wife and one son, four brothers and four sisters and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

Funeral will take place at his late residence on North Liberty street, Delaware, at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

A NEW BRIDGE.

The Commissioners Contract for One at Latke.

Bids were opened and the contract let this afternoon for a new steel bridge across the Scioto at Lakue. The bridge is to be 130 feet in length and eighteen feet in width and was let by the county commissioners to the Canton Bridge company for $350.

The Massillon Bridge company bid $175, the Variety Iron Works of Cleveland, $100, the Ohio Bridge company, of Cincinnati, $450, the King Bridge company, of Cleveland, $313, the Youngstown Bridge company, $1075, the Bracken Bridge company of Cincinnati, $1200, the Columbus Bridge company, plan 1, $425, plan 2, $300, the Indiana Bridge company, of Muncie, four bids, the lowest of which was $1022, the Buchanan Bridge company, of Bellefontaine, $1015 and Chas. C. Morrison, of Cincinnati, $407.

RAILROAD NOTES

Supt. Reynolds and Master Mechanic Hawthorne, of the C. and E., were in the city today.

For the first week in October the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking shows the following earnings: 1894, $23,385; 1895, $21,187.20; increase, $2,201.81.

The Columbus Journal makes a note of a number of Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo excursions that will be run Saturday night. At 11 o'clock p.m., a special will be run from Columbus to Marion, as an accommodation to those desiring to attend the Republican rally or the theaters.

Galion Inquirer: Private telegrams were received in this city Saturday night announcing the sad death of Ed Newhouse, a former Erie brakeman.

but recently up to the time of the accident farming at Wauson. There are two stories as to how the accident occurred but both agree that he was accidentally shot by his milkman, Roy Stephens, about 5 o'clock Saturday evening, and died almost instantly.

Columbus Journal: At the last meeting of the executive committee of the Hocking Valley Mutual Benefit association, the following accident claims were allowed: James Kennedy, engineer, $10.70; John Geary, fireman, $10; Herbert Clark, section man, $12.50; James Kilbourne, wood worker, $25; Nick Snider, laborer, $10; Henry Koller, brakeman, $10; James Kile, yard brakeman, $15; Matthew McCabe, car repairer, $5; J. A. Luckey, fireman, $10; Frank Smith, conductor, $21.10; also the following death benefits ordered paid: Mrs. Anna Higgin, $500; Mrs. Elizabeth Shugert, $500; and Mrs. Rebecca Torrey, $500.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, the Salvation Army leader, presented a permit signed by William Buchanan, superintendent of motive power of the New York Central, to Engineer Canfield just before pulling out of Poughkeepsie, entitling

Mrs. Booth and a companion to ride on the engine from Poughkeepsie to Albany.

She and her companion were assisted to a seat in the engine and made the trip.

On leaving the engine at Albany she thanked the engineer and said that her reason for wishing to ride on the locomotive was to see the technical side of a railroad man's life, so she would be better able to sympathize with him in his work. Mr. Booth is just starting on a tour West visiting Salvation Army posts.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, the Salvation

Army leader, presented a permit signed by William Buchanan, superintendent of motive power of the New York Central,

to Engineer Canfield just before pulling out of Poughkeepsie, entitling

Mrs. Booth and a companion to ride on the engine from Poughkeepsie to Albany.

She and her companion were assisted to a seat in the engine and made the trip.

On leaving the engine at Albany she thanked the engineer and said that her reason for wishing to ride on the locomotive was to see the technical side of a railroad man's life, so she would be better able to sympathize with him in his work. Mr. Booth is just starting on a tour West visiting Salvation Army posts.

Witty and Graceful.

Dean Ramsay tells of a witty and graceful compliment paid by a Scotch minister to a young lady, daughter of a neighbor ing bird. It was the custom in this and other Scotch parishes for the minister to bow to the birds as they passed by.

One day a Scotch minister, on his way to a neighboring town, was passing by the garden of a young lady, Mrs. McIlroy, when he noticed a bird hovering over the flowers. "What a pretty bird you have," said the minister, "but I am afraid it is not a Scotch bird."

"It is not," said the young lady, "but

it is a Scotch bird."

"It is not," said the minister, "but it

is a Scotch bird."

"It is not," said the young lady, "but

it is a Scotch bird."

"It is not," said the minister, "but it

is a Scotch bird."

"It is not," said the young lady, "but

it is a Scotch bird."

"It is not," said the minister, "but it

is a Scotch bird."

"It is not," said the young lady, "but

it is a Scotch bird."

HOUSE TO RENT: Parlor, dining and sitting room, kitchen, bathroom, cellar, brick, situated on water and four bedrooms. J. S. REED.

AN eleven room house, the best in the city, suitable for families. All modern conveniences, including city water. Possession. Inquire of Mrs. S. H. Rupp, 133 North State Street.

Four-room house in North Main St., call at my office or 2801.

Seven room up stairs, over store, fully responsible. Inquire at store or 2801.

Suite of fine upstairs rooms, water and water closets. In center of town. G. S. MCGUIGAN, A.G.

BRENT: A house on Kenyon Avenue, a house on State street, on Windsor street—out a bargain. H. Wright.

GOOD house and lot, on south Main street, east side, in Columbus, call at 25 south Main. MRS. LADY BUNER.

FURNISHED ROOM—One nicely furnished room for rent. Furniture included. Mrs. Edna Diebold, 26 south State Street.

NICE ROOMS FOR RENT—in the Union Memorial block, suitable for one or two persons. Inquire of Mr. Clegg over Fox's store, South Main.

A bunch of keys, containing ten of them door keys. Under deposit by leaving at STAR office.

ROOM—for rent, now occupied by Dr. No. 45 south Main street. Due locations in the city. P. O. SURVEYOR.

VACATION home by Greenville. Come and apply on work. 2806p.

UNIDENTIFIED: For mandolin scholars. Lessons given home. Call at H. Ackerman W. C. Blagg, 27, south Prospect Street, Marion.

CRAZY To Move Again.

I want to sell my property at the corner of Bellefontaine Avenue and Windsor street, and I want to sell it right away. 215 ft. front on Bellefontaine Avenue and 141 ft. on Windsor; new, six-room house summer kitchen, new filtered cistern. Valuable vacant corner lot. Good, healthy neighborhood. Two blocks from new brewery.

If You Want An Ideal Home at a Bargain,

Call on or address me at once.

K. MOUNT.

Remember This!

For your sewing machine supplies and repairs, and for second hand machines of all kinds, see

JNO. S. DUDLEY,

142 SOUTH MAIN STREET, AT BRIGEL'S HARNESS SHOP.

Royal Worcester CHOICE—DAINTY.
WEDDING PRESENTS ANYTHING YOU WANT.
FINE THINGS AT THE FINE STORE, THAT'S TURNERY'S.

COAL! BEST HARD AND SOFT COAL at Telephone No. 6. Linsley & Lawrence's.

MARION CARPET CLEANING WORKS
119 EAST CHURCH STREET.

Carpet taken up, cleaned and relaid. New carpet sewed, old ones retited or changed. Feathers renovated. Upholstered furniture repaired. Work called for and delivered free.

E. C. HOLLYDAY, PROP'T.

LEGAL BLANKS

Of the most approved farms, and all the leading blanks we make a specialty of. Typewriter ribbons, carbons, paper, etc.

C. G. WIANT, Bookseller and Stationer.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

THE THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD OF D POWELL INSTANTLY KILLED.

She Climbs Onto Her Father's Stone Wagon and Is Turned Under the Wheel. Her Head Ground to Pulp—The Parents Are Heartbroken.

A most deplorable accident occurred at the home of David Powell, 7 miles north of this city, Monday afternoon at about 5 o'clock, in which his little daughter, aged three years, met instant death in the most horrible manner imaginable.

The father operates a stone quarry and was driving a wagon loaded with stone. He drove up to the gate of his residence and stopped. At the time that he stopped his little daughter was standing at the gate. She playfully ran out and climbed upon the wagon wheel. At this instant the horses started and the little one was turned under the wheel and was passed over her head, literally crushing it to a pulp.

The father was not aware until all was over that the child was on the wagon, and it was with heartrending cries that he witnessed his dead child borne into the house. One side of the little one's face was crushed off. Both her eyes were forced from their sockets, and in preparing her for burial the undertaker was obliged to take forty stitches in the wounds made in her face.

Strange as it may seem, there was not even a bruise about her body, but it was her face alone that had been so terribly wounded. The wagon wheel passed slowly around, the child revolving with it, and at the time that it began to turn she was standing on the wheel with her hands extended over the bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell are almost prostrated with grief over the accident, and the entire community is shocked over the sad occurrence that has cast a gloom of sorrow over the neighborhood.

The funeral will occur at the Baptist church at Brush Ridge, Wednesday forenoon about 10 o'clock. The cortège will leave the house at 9 o'clock and proceed to the church, where the services will take place.

TALKING OF FOOTBALL.

There is talk of a game of football to be played here between the regular football team and the physicians. One of the leading physicians of the city was closeted with Physical Director Wyte this afternoon, and was trying to make some arrangements whereby a game of football could be arranged.

The physician is an enthusiast over football and wishes to try the field himself.

There are among the physicians here timber that could make the regular team hustle. Several of the physicians are athletes and ought to kick the pigskin pretty scientifically.

ANOTHER ELOPEMENT.

Kenton presents another eloping couple. A special from that place says that Ed Nickolson, moulder and Laura Grady, a well known young society lady, eloped to Columbus Sunday night, where they were married. Nicholson had only been a resident of Kenton two months.

Get our extremely low prices on wraps before buying elsewhere.

SEIFFNER BROS.

The Tribe of Ben Hur will hold a meeting Thursday evening of this week.

Cleveland's BAKING POWDER

Manufactured originally by Cleveland Brothers, Albany, N. Y., now by the Cleveland Baking Powder Company, New York.

has been used by American housewives for twenty-five years, and those who have used it longest praise it most. Recipe book free. Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.

Send stamp and address.

Cleveland Baking Powder Co., New York.

RECEIPE BOOK FREE.</

A SET OF ROGUES

BY FRANK BARRETT

[Copyright, 1895, by Macmillan & Co.]

CHAPTER XXXVI

In silence we led Mrs. Godwin to the seat we had occupied, and seating ourselves we said not a word for some time. For my own part the realization of our loss threw my spirits into a strange apathy; 'twas as if some actual blow had stunned my senses. Yet I, too, was serving the Moors about their business—despatching one to Elche for a train of mules, charging a second boat with merchandise while the first turned, etc.

"I can feel for you," says Mrs. Godwin at length, addressing Dawson, "for I also have lost an only child."

"Your daughter Judith, madam?" says I.

"She died two years ago. Yours still lives," says she, again turning to Dawson, who sat with a haggard face, rocking himself like one nursing a great pain. "And while there is life there's hope, as one says."

"Why, to be sure," says Jack, rousing himself. "This is no mere Kit, than we bargained for. Tell me, madam, who you know that country, do you think a carpenter would be held in esteem there? I'm yet a strong man as you see, with some good serviceable years of life before me. Dye think they'd take me in exchange for my Moll, who is but a bit of a girl!"

"She is beautiful, and beauty counts for more than strength and talent there, poor man," says she.

"I'll make 'em offer," says he, "and though they do not agree to give her freedom they may yet suffer me to see her time and again if I work well."

"Tis strange," says she. "Your father has told me all your history. Had I learned it from other lips I might have set you down for rogues, destitute of heart or conscience; yet with this evidence before me, I must needs regard you and your dear daughter as more noble than many whose deeds are writ in gold. 'Tis a lesson to teach me faith in the goodness of God, who redeems his creatures' follies with one touch of love. Be of good cheer, my friend," adds she, laying her thin hand on his arm. "There is hope. I would not have accepted this ransom—no, not for your daughter's tears and entreaties—without good assurance that I, in my turn, might deliver her."

I asked the old gentlewoman how this might be accomplished.

"My niece," says she, dwelling on the word with a smile, as if happy in the alliance, "my niece, coming to Barbary of her free will, is not a slave like those captured in warfare and carried thither by force. She remains there as a hostage for me and will be free to return when I send the price of my ransom."

"Is that a great sum?"

"Three thousand gold ducats—about £1,000 English."

"Why, madam," says Dawson, "we have nothing, being now reduced to our last pieces. And if you have the goodness to raise this money heaven only knows how long it may be ere you succeed. This a fortnight's journey at the least to England, and then you have to deal with your steward, who will seek only to put obstacles in your way, so that six weeks may pass ere Moll is released, and what may befall her in the meantime?"

"She is safe. Ali Okkadi is a good man. She has nothing to fear while she is under his protection. Do not mis-judge the Moors. They have many estimable qualities."

"Yet, madam," says I, "by you saying there is hope I gather there must be also danger."

"There is," answers she, at which Jack nods with conviction. "A beautiful young woman is never free from danger." (Jack assents again.) "They are good and bad men among the Moors as among other people."

"Aye, to be sure," says Dawson.

"I say she is safe under the protection of Ali Okkadi, but when the ransom is paid and she leaves Thadvin she may stand in peril."

"Why, that's natural enough," cries Dawson. "She is here among Moors or no Moors; 'tis then she will most need a friend to serve her, and one that knows the ins and outs of the place and how to deal with these Turks most surely better than any half dozen fresh landed and raw to their business." Then he fell questioning Mrs. Godwin as to how Moll was lodged, the distance of Thadvin from Algiers, the way to get there and drivers other particulars, which together with his eager, cheerful vivacity, showed clearly enough that he was more firmly resolved than ever to go into Barbary and to bear Moll without delay. And presently leaving me with Mrs. Godwin he goes down to the captain of the galley, who is directing the loading of goods from the playboat, and with such small store of words as he has passed, aided by plentiful gesture, he enters into a very lively debate with him, the upshot of which was that the captain tells him he shall start the next morning at daylight, if there be but a puff of wind, and agrees to carry him to Algiers for a couple of pieces (one of which they clasp hands), as Dawson, in high glee, informs us on his return.

"And now, Kit," says he, "I must go back to Elche to borrow those same two pieces of Don Sanchez, so I pay you, madam, excuse me."

But just then the train of males from Elche appears, and with them Sidi ben Ahmed, who, having informed us of Mrs. Godwin's arrival, brings a letter for her carriage, at the same time begging her to accept his hospitality as the true friend of her niece. Moll, however, returned to Elche together, and hence so downcast as I at the thought of losing of these Moors, do day after day, but that counts for nothing with these, during people, but having a hint from our friend we found occasion to slip a sheet in the hand of a go-between officer, who straightforward bid us to his master. Our captain having presented us with all the usual remonies, the grande takes our letter from Sidi ben Ahmed, reads it, and without further ado signs and seals us a trader's pass for 25 days, to end at sunset the day after the festival of Ramadan. With this paper we went off in high glee, thinking that 25 hours of safe conduct would have sufficed us. And so to an eating house, where we treated our friendly captain to the best, and greasing his palms also for his good services pasted in mighty good humor on both sides.

By this time it was getting pretty late in the day, nevertheless we burned with such impatience to be near our dear Moll that we set forth for Thadvin, which lies upon the seacoast about seven English leagues east of Algiers. But a cool, refreshing air from the sea and the great joy in our hearts made this journey seem to us the most delightful of our lives. And indeed, after passing through the suburbs richly planted with gardens, and crossing the river, on which are many mills, and so coming into the plain of Mettegna, there is such an abundance of sweet odors and lovely fertile views to enchant the senses that a dull man would be inspired to a happy, cheerful mood.

Dawson asking him for the loan of a couple of pieces and telling his paper, the don drew a very long, serious face and tried his utmost to disengage him from it, so that at first I supposed him of being hark to part with this petty sum, but I did him in justice, for, finding Dawson was by no means to be turned from his purpose, he handed him his purse, advising him the first thing we did on arriving at Algiers to present himself to the dey and purchase a faman, giving him protection during his stay in Barbary (which he said might be done for a few silver ducats). Then after discussing apart with Sidi he comes to Mrs. Godwin, and says:

"Madam, with your sanction my friend Sidi ben Ahmed will charge Mr. Dawson with a letter to Ali Okkadi, promising to pay him the sum of 4,000 gold ducats upon your niece's being safely conducted hither within the space of three weeks."

"Senor," answers she, "I thank Sidi ben Ahmed very deeply, and you also," adds she, extenuating her compunctions, "for this offer. But unluckily I cannot hope to have this sum of money in short a time."

"It is needless to say, madam," returns he, with a smile, "that in making this proposal I have considered of this difficulty. My friend has agreed to take my bond for the payment of the sum when it shall be convenient to you to discharge it."

Mrs. Godwin accepted this arrangement with a profound bow, which concealed the astonishment it occasioned her. But she drew a long breath, and I perceived she cast a anxious glance at all three of us, as if she were marveling at the change that must have taken place in civilized countries since her absence, which should account for a pack of thieves nowadays being so very unlike what a pack of thieves was in her young days.

CHAPTER XXXVII

Having written his letter, Sidi ben Ahmed proposed that Mrs. Godwin should await the return of Moll before setting out for England, very graciously offering her the hospitality of his house meanwhile, and this offer I willingly accepted. And now, there being no reason for my staying in Elche, Dawson gladly agreed I should accompany him, the more so I knew more of the Moors' language than he. Going down with us to the water side, Don Sanchez gave us some very good hints for our behavior in Barbary, bidding us, above every thing, be very careful not to break any of the laws of that country. "For," says he, "I have seen three men hanged there for merely casting a Turk into the sea in a drunken frolic."

"Three thousand gold ducats—about £1,000 English."

"Why, madam," says Dawson, "we have nothing, being now reduced to our last pieces. And if you have the goodness to raise this money heaven only knows how long it may be ere you succeed. This a fortnight's journey at the least to England, and then you have to deal with your steward, who will seek only to put obstacles in your way, so that six weeks may pass ere Moll is released, and what may befall her in the meantime?"

"She is safe. Ali Okkadi is a good man. She has nothing to fear while she is under his protection. Do not mis-judge the Moors. They have many estimable qualities."

"Yet, madam," says I, "by you saying there is hope I gather there must be also danger."

"There is," answers she, at which Jack nods with conviction. "A beautiful young woman is never free from danger." (Jack assents again.) "They are good and bad men among the Moors as among other people."

"Aye, to be sure," says Dawson.

"I say she is safe under the protection of Ali Okkadi, but when the ransom is paid and she leaves Thadvin she may stand in peril."

"Why, that's natural enough," cries Dawson. "She is here among Moors or no Moors; 'tis then she will most need a friend to serve her, and one that knows the ins and outs of the place and how to deal with these Turks most surely better than any half dozen fresh landed and raw to their business." Then he fell questioning Mrs. Godwin as to how Moll was lodged, the distance of Thadvin from Algiers, the way to get there and drivers other particulars, which together with his eager, cheerful vivacity, showed clearly enough that he was more firmly resolved than ever to go into Barbary and to bear Moll without delay. And presently leaving me with Mrs. Godwin he goes down to the captain of the galley, who is directing the loading of goods from the playboat, and with such small store of words as he has passed, aided by plentiful gesture, he enters into a very lively debate with him, the upshot of which was that the captain tells him he shall start the next morning at daylight, if there be but a puff of wind, and agrees to carry him to Algiers for a couple of pieces (one of which they clasp hands), as Dawson, in high glee, informs us on his return.

"And now, Kit," says he, "I must go back to Elche to borrow those same two pieces of Don Sanchez, so I pay you, madam, excuse me."

But just then the train of males from Elche appears, and with them Sidi ben Ahmed, who, having informed us of Mrs. Godwin's arrival, brings a letter for her carriage, at the same time begging her to accept his hospitality as the true friend of her niece. Moll, however, had in the letter, "if this ensues should come to naught, what could redemine your daughter for the disappoiment of these false folks?" your meeting would inspire? It cannot be."

Being come to Elche, Don Sanchez presented himself to Mrs. Godwin with the courtesy and calmness as never before, and though she received him hand in the letter, "if this ensues should come to naught, what could redemine your daughter for the disappoiment of these false folks?" your meeting would inspire? It cannot be."

With this he clasps his hands, and a servant entering at a nod from his master lifts the hangings for us to go.

Dawson stammered a broken words of passionate protest, and then breaking down as he perceived the folly of resisting he dropped his head and suffered me to lead him out. As I led the Moors in going I caught, as I fancied, a gleam of triumphal gladness in the dark eyes of Moshan on Mo-

nah, master," says Jack petorously. "I did not speak a word to my child. 'If you understand our tongue,' says I, 'you will know that we did but let her live painless and well.'"

"Possibly," says he. "Nevertheless you compelled me henceforth to keep her a close prisoner when I would give her all the liberty possible."

"Master," says Jack, imploringly, "I do pray you not to punish me for my fault. Let her still have the freedom of your garden, and I promise you we will go away this day and return no more until we can purchase her liberty for ever."

"Good," says the old man. "That mark you keep your prints. Know that 'tis an offense against the law to incite a slave revolt. I tell you this, not as a threat, for I bear you no ill will, but as a warning to save you from consequences which I may be powerless to avert."

These did seem to me a hint at the sinister design of Moshan on Moshan, a wild suspicion maybe on my part, and yet, I think, justified by evils to come

[TO BE CONTINUED]

FROM MANY SOURCES.

Walter—Will you have spinach today, sir? Guest—Yes, but I don't want it so quickly as it was yesterday. Bring me some, with no sand in it.—Boston Transcript

Mr. Speaker, I exclaim a member of the New South Wales parliament, in reply to a speech, tends me with a desire for you to learn the imputation she has made. What is rum? It is a shaved pig with a greased tail which slips through the lands of thomands and then is suddenly caught by some lucky fellow who happens to hold on to it. I let the greasy tail quadruped go by me without an effort to clutch it, sir.—Pitt Bits.

Mrs. Fashion—I've picked out a husband for you, daughter. Miss Fashion—Very well, but I want to say right here mother, when it comes to buying the wedding dress, I'm going to select the material myself.—Truth.

Teacher—When did the 30 years' war commence? Pupil—I don't know, sir, but if you tell me when it let off I can reckon up.—Flegelide Blatt.

Holland—I can't understand it. I never know it to occur before October. What is the trouble? Young Van Brunn came in today and paid me the $10 he borrowed a week ago.—The explanation is easy. He has to raise $30 the day after tomorrow.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Old Mercator (to little Billy Dicks), just left, who applies for situation as office boy, and presents testimonial from druggist.—We don't want you on sun days, my good little boy. Have you a refraction from any one who knows you on week days?—Young Dicks.

Two men met on Main street yesterday when the following conversation ensued: "Well, Jim, where have ye been lately?" "I haven't seen ye in some time." "Oh, begorra! I've been down to Block Island for a week." And, I say, Tom did ever see the ocean? Oh, it's fine!" "Did I ever see the ocean? How in the world do you suppose I came across from Ireland? Do you think I took a trolley car?"—Hartford Post.

Jack Poore (to Miss Cash)—Will you marry me, maiden fair? Miss Cash—I'm very sorry, but my income is only sufficient for my own support.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

First Wasp Friend at a Hotel—It's a mean cuss. Didn't give me a cent. Second Wasp Friend—That fool I was brushin' give me a quarter.—Boston Transcript.

Editor's Wife—Who wrote this beautiful article on "How to Manage a Wife"? Editor—Young Quiller. Editor's Wife—Why, I didn't know he was married. Editor—He isn't.—Philadelphia Post.

"I have just captured a slot machine down on the beach," said the survivor. "We'll have him served broad alive," said the king of Moyley gruffly. "He and his kind have been responsible for a falling off of more than 50 per cent in the missionary contributions"—Indianapolis Journal.

"She'll come again," whispers Dawson feverishly.

And he was in the right, for, after we had stood there the best part of an hour, we hear Moll again gently hum

CHAPTER XXXVIII

"My daughter Moll," answers Jack in an eager, choking voice, offering his letter. The Moor regarded him keenly, and taking the letter sits down to study it, and while he is at this business a young Moor enters, whose name, as we shortly learned, was Moshan on Moshan. He was, I take it, about 25 or 30 years of age and as handsome a man of his kind as ever I saw, with wondrous soft dark eyes, but a cruel mouth and a most high, imperious bearing, which, together with his rich clothes and jewels, berokened him a man of quality. Hearing who we were, he saluted us civilly enough, but there was a flash of enmity in his eyes and a tightening of his lips which liked me not at all.

When the elder man had finished the letter he hands it to the younger, and he having read it in his turn they fall to discussing it in a low tone and in a dialect of which not one word was intelligible to us. Finally Ali Okkadi, rising from his cushions, says gravely, addressing Dawson:

"I will write without delay to Sidi ben Ahmed in answer to his letter."

"But my daughter," says Dawson, "and as well as I could, I will break the law either to break you or to break her."

"My friend says nothing here," answers the old man, regarding the letter. "Nothing that would justify my giving her up to you. He says the moor shall be pardoned upon her being brought safe to Elche."

"Why, your excellency, I and my compeers here will undertake to carry out your orders there. What better guard than a daughter have than her father?"

"Are you more powerful than the elements? Can you command the tempest? Have you sufficient armament to combat all the enemies that sear the seas? If you, indeed tell all you, what is this promise of payment? Nothing."

"At last you will suffer me to make this voyage with my child."

"I do not purpose to send her to Elche," returned the old man in calmness.

"Tis a risk I will not undertake. I have said that when I am paid 3,000 ducats I will give Lola Mullah freedom, and I will keep my word."

"To send her to Elche is a charge that does not touch my pocket. This I will write and tell my friend, Sidi ben Ahmed, and upon his payment and expressed agreement I will render you your daughter. Not before."

We could say nothing for awhile, being so thundered by this reverse, but at length Dawson says in a piteous voice:

"At least you will suffer me to see my daughter? Think if she were yours and you had lost her, thinking her awhile dead?"

Moshan on Moshan muttered a few words that seemed to fix the old Moor's wavering heart when over to the Moors were putfully attending in an effort to dissuade him. However, he consented to a very slight compromise, and that was to wait for the arrival of the day's minister and then we all might have dinner together. Think," adds the old man.

"You are unwise," says he in a calm tone.

Classical Cake Walking.

This exercise or cake walking was given official recognition by the government of the District of Columbia, and was issued to the Ordnance Department. The first cake walk was held at the U.S. Cavalry Barracks on October 15, 1895. The idea of cake walking originated in the United States, and was introduced to Europe by General Macmillan, who was then Minister of War. The first cake walk was held at the U.S. Cavalry Barracks on October 15, 1895. The idea of cake walking originated in the United States, and was introduced to Europe by General Macmillan, who was then Minister of War.

Mother Gray's Sweet Worm Powders were successfully used in treating children's complaints by Mother Gray, for years a nurse in the Children's Home at New York. They will certainly remove all kinds of worms, and when a child is feverish, with bad stomach and irregular bowels, they always cure pleasant and harmless as milk

D.R.A.RHU,
PHYSICIAN
AND SURGEON.
Prospect St.,
Marion, Ohio.
EYE AND EAR, Spectacles
Carefully Fitted.
MEDICAL AND SURGICAL DISEASES
OF WOMEN.
Hours from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

BE ON TIME And Do It Now!

We can interest you in LIFE,
FIRE or ACCIDENT
Insurance.
D. & L. V. Uncapher.

Jerry M. Garber,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
and residence
Memorial Bldg.
Marion, O.
Tel. 162.
HOURS: a.m. 9:00 to 11:00; p.m.
10:00 to 12:00. Sundays—
a.m. 9:00 to 12:00, standard.

CINCINNATI TWICE-A-WEEK GAZETTE.

FORMERLY THE WEEKLY.
The Greatest
FAMILY NEWSPAPER OF THE
OHIO VALLEY.

6,646 Columns of Reading
Matter in a Year.

All for $1.00
—OR—
Six Months for 50c

Issued Tuesday and Friday morning of each week in time to reach readers on day of publication.
Tell market and telegraph reports and all the news of the day make it as valuable as a newspaper for these two days.

THE CINCINNATI COMMERCIAL . . . GAZETTE

Daily and Sunday,

Now furnished by Dealers in Villes and Towns, outside of Cincinnati and Suburbs, at

3 Cts Daily,
5 Cts Sunday, or
20 Cts a Week.

The Commercial Gazette is the only Morning Republican newspaper published in English at Cincinnati.

Address . . .
The Commercial Gazette Co.,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

REORGANIZATION OF Erie System, Under Plan and Agreement dated August 20, 1895.

To the Holders of New York, Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company's New
Second Consolidated Mortgage Bonds; Second Consolidated Mortgage Funded Coupon Bonds; Funded Coupon Bonds of 1885; Income
Bonds; and Chicago & Erie
Railroad Company's Income
Bonds.

New York, September 25, 1895
An account of the above-mentioned bonds known as
"the Second Consols,"
"the Funded Coupon 5s,"
"the Income,"
"Chicago & Erie Income," to deposit same on or before

October 25, 1895,
of the depositaries named in
Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Co.,
New York, or Messrs. J. S.
Gold Broad Street, London, or deposited on or before that date on such other terms as may hereafter determine.
The new plan of the Erie property for November 6, prompt and orderly is essential.

H. COSTER,
JAMES FITZGERALD,
ANTHONY J. THOMAS,
Committee.

NAT GOODWIN'S VIEWS

The Great Comedian Praises the Theater.

THE DRAMA A HISTORY MAKER.

Mr. Goodwin Thinks His Profession Is a
Grand One—He Gives a Little Sensible
Advice and Also Corrects a Mistaken
Impression of the Ease of an Actor's Life.

It was Professor Whitchorne, the eminent Greek scholar, I believe, who said that the works of the immortal Shakespeare were the best history extant. The remark I think particularly felicitous. The great bard of Avon depicted, as only his magnificent genius could, clearly, succinctly and brilliantly, the historic events of which he plays treated. He did more. He gave posterity not only an accurate portrayal of the principal characters of his dramas, but also afforded an insight into the customs, manners and peculiarities of the people of the epochs with which he dealt.

NAT C. GOODWIN.

The example he set has been productive of enduring benefit to mankind. Modern dramatists endeavor to do as he has done, and today the stage is a schoolhouse and a history maker. Military dramas, for instance, like "Paul Kavanagh" and "Sheridan," best illustrate this idea. Therapeutic scenes of the French revolution and of our own great war are vividly reproduced and impressed upon the mind of the spectator.

Again, comedy dramas like the one I am now playing at the Fifth Avenue theater, New York, "The Gilded Fool," or William H. Crane's old success, "The Senator," are highly instructive as well as entertaining. They portray phases of life which probably half any audience would be wholly unfamiliar with. They reveal oddities of character, quaint incidents of metropolitan or capital life which a rural audience would never dream of. And again a drama like "The Old Homestead" affords city people a peep at rippling rivulets, pretty sloping hills and a picture of rugged homelike character and worth, of sturdy yeoman pluck, that they knew not of.

I maintain, too, that the stage is a moral force as well as a teacher of past and contemporaneous human history. I think it is even a greater moral force than the pulpit, for there are thousands upon thousands of people who regularly attend the theater who seldom if ever visit the church. Indeed they exceed the churchgoers by a large majority, "as Billy Florence's member from the "Cohus" described" would say. The reason I believe that the stage is a moral force lies in the fact that almost every play condemns vice and applauds virtue. There are exceptions to every rule, and the exceptions in a dramatic way are a few foreigners who write sensuous plays and novels.

A play like "Virginius" or "Spartacus," for instance, I believe to be pretty nearly as good as any sermon and quite as salutary in its influence. If that masterpiece of Sir Walter Scott's work, "Ivanhoe," could be dramatized it would be a greater incentive to "ig" doing than almost any sermon preached nowadays. What could point a better moral than the heroic sacrifice Rebecca made in defense of her virtue, the lofty yet chaste bearing of Rowena, the chivalrous manhood of Ivanhoe, the glorious spirit of King Richard and lastly the fearful fate of Frantz de Beaufort at Torquemada, the ignominious flight of De Bracy to France and the final overthrow of the master spirit of evil, the proud Templar, in the lists at Templestowe? What a lesson such a play would inculcate in the minds of the young especially, and what noble sentiments and elevated thoughts would it not beget!

Comedy dramas, too, point morals as well as those of heavier mold. Sometimes as a corrector of human errors they are a bit more effective. Good natured railraiders can bring about beneficial results at times when inventive fails. The witty if sometimes caustic pen of Gilbert, for example, brought about a reformation of some existing political abuses in England which the scathing denunciation of Disraeli or the ponderous fulminations of The Times (London Times) could never have done. Charles Lever, in that sprightly novel, "Jack Hinton, the Guardsman," tells how the bravest kind of a brave soldier was "laughed out of Ireland." So a polished cal or social offender may be "laughed out of" some pecadillo by a witty comedy. And the best of it is that no harm is done in the operation. It is a bit of merriment, and no bitter feelings rankle in the human heart.

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Tragedy and comedy are both necessary adjuncts to education. We should know the sorrows of mankind as well as its joys. I believe, however, that we should see more of the sunshine than of the stormy clouds. Our participation in the harrowing grief of Virginia is enough to satisfy a man or woman for a while, either could follow. "The Gilded Fool" in his ludicrous adventures every night for a week without experiencing any depression of spirits or even "that tired feeling" the cure all medicine men talk about. Upon either man's or woman's physical being comedy has a more beneficial effect than tragedy. It is tonic. As regards their mental improvement I believe the advantages accruing are about equal.

I have run on thus further than I had intended because I have touched upon what is always an interesting theme—the grandeur of my profession. I glory in it and in the achievements of the great men who have enabled it. Garrick, Kean, Lemaitre, Macready, Kemble, Forrest, Booth and McCullough are names that will live in history with those of the distinguished patriots, soldiers and statesmen of all ages. Their deeds are their best epitaphs.

In conclusion I will dwell for a moment upon what may be appropriately termed the humorous side of the subject in hand. I am daily in receipt of letters from cranky enthusiasts and ambitious people of both sexes who either want to "elevate" the stage, "instruct the masses," or else want tips from your humble servant as to how they can best succeed in their laudable intentions. That is a pose for almost anybody. I do not pretend to be a doctor, counselor, prophet or any other kind of advisor. Almost any man or woman who has reached the age of discretion should be able to best judge what they are fitted for. I shrink from giving "advice," but I might without being subjected to any suspicion of egotism presume to "give a tip."

A famous writer has said that a poet is born and not made. Antiochus has as explicitly stated that genius is an abnormal capacity for hard work. A happy medium—a combination of inherent dramatic genius and the ability and pluck to work hard and persistently—constitutes, I think, the genius of a great actor. Pluck and perseverance alone with a fair presence can make a pretty good actor. In both cases the heart, of course, must be in the work. It cannot be done perfectly. No man or woman can "walk through a part" and expect to succeed even in a mediocre capacity. That is about as succinct and accurate as I can state the case. There is no use entering into details. Besides, I could not do it satisfactorily either to myself or to the reader after knowledge.

One idea, however, which seems to prevail among the public generally I would like to disabuse—that is, that favorite actors of either sex are an ease seeking lot. Their lives are supposed to be one continual round of pleasure. This is an egregious error. A footlight favorite, man or woman, works harder than any merchant and almost as hard as any newspaper man. They study constantly new renditions of their parts, continually think of new ideas and improvements, mechanical or theoretical.

They reveal oddities of character, quaint incidents of metropolitan or capital life which a rural audience would never dream of. And again a drama like "The Old Homestead" affords city people a peep at rippling rivulets, pretty sloping hills and a picture of rugged homelike character and worth, of sturdy yeoman pluck, that they knew not of.

I maintain, too, that the stage is a moral force as well as a teacher of past and contemporaneous human history. I think it is even a greater moral force than the pulpit, for there are thousands upon thousands of people who regularly attend the theater who seldom if ever visit the church. Indeed they exceed the churchgoers by a large majority, "as Billy Florence's member from the "Cohus" described" would say. The reason I believe that the stage is a moral force lies in the fact that almost every play condemns vice and applauds virtue. There are exceptions to every rule, and the exceptions in a dramatic way are a few foreigners who write sensuous plays and novels.

A play like "Virginius" or "Spartacus," for instance, I believe to be pretty nearly as good as any sermon and quite as salutary in its influence. If that masterpiece of Sir Walter Scott's work, "Ivanhoe," could be dramatized it would be a greater incentive to "ig" doing than almost any sermon preached nowadays. What could point a better moral than the heroic sacrifice Rebecca made in defense of her virtue, the lofty yet chaste bearing of Rowena, the chivalrous manhood of Ivanhoe, the glorious spirit of King Richard and lastly the fearful fate of Frantz de Beaufort at Torquemada, the ignominious flight of De Bracy to France and the final overthrow of the master spirit of evil, the proud Templar, in the lists at Templestowe? What a lesson such a play would inculcate in the minds of the young especially, and what noble sentiments and elevated thoughts would it not beget!

Comedy dramas, too, point morals as well as those of heavier mold. Sometimes as a corrector of human errors they are a bit more effective. Good natured railraiders can bring about beneficial results at times when inventive fails. The witty if sometimes caustic pen of Gilbert, for example, brought about a reformation of some existing political abuses in England which the scathing denunciation of Disraeli or the ponderous fulminations of The Times (London Times) could never have done. Charles Lever, in that sprightly novel, "Jack Hinton, the Guardsman," tells how the bravest kind of a brave soldier was "laughed out of Ireland." So a polished polite and are perhaps rehearsing another play or opera at the same time. Besides all this they worry about every other man and woman's part and are constantly on the watch that none of them shall make any "bad break."

A successful actor or actress knows full well the meaning of the aphorism: "There is no royal road to learning."

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "THE GILDED FOOL"

ical, and are perhaps rehearsing another play or opera at the same time. Besides all this they worry about every other man and woman's part and are constantly on the watch that none of them shall make any "bad break."

A successful actor or actress knows full well the meaning of the aphorism: "There is no royal road to learning."

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

GOODWIN IN "MISSOURI."

Those who went to Abbey's theater, New York city, one evening recently must have been amused at the little children in the left side box. They were the heirs to the Franco-Wilson estate, and it was the first time that they had ever been to the theater at night. It was funny to watch them. The eyes of the elder were riveted upon her father, and with him she even went through his lines. You could see her lips moving all the time he was talking or singing. The younger watched the effect of Wilson's humor upon the audience. Every time Wilson said anything funny this child would turn round and look eagerly for signs of appreciation. The youngsters were accompanied by their mother and their grandmother.

Nat C. Goodwin

The Leaves OF Autumn

Remind you that fall is here. They should also convey to you another message. You need a new pair of shoes. Now, where will you get them? Surely where you can get the best for the least money, and that place is at

D. C. AMBERG'S.

CHEAPEST
AND BEST
FUEL ON EARTH.

THE PRENDERGAST
Lumber and Coal Co.

Pocahontas
SMOKELESS
BITUMINOUS
COAL

D. A. FRANK & COMPANY.

Our Cloak Opening.

THERE have been others, concerning which much has been advertised, but you have been looking for ours, and you will not be disappointed. It will be a notable event. No disappointment to the most extravagant expectations.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 16,

All day long. We will be ready early in morning. You needn't wait till the ordinary rush is on.

We shall have with us a representative of the best New York house in the wrap business, with a superb line. Perhaps it is worth while to say that a notable reason why this house excels is that it has a representative in Paris, one in London and one in Berlin. These three European representatives are especially engaged to keep the American designer fully advised as to fashion's fancies in the three great European centers, the arbiters of the fashion world.

This Will Be the Best Chance to Select Swell, High Grade Garments.

IT will be a fashionable event, no ordinary affair. We command it to the stylish dressers of Marion as the all-important event, equaled only in the cities.

Cloth Jackets from $10 Up.
Cloth and Plush Capes,
From $7.50 Up.

To make the event of surpassing general interest, the display will be augmented by purchases of our own, to arrive by express for that day, so the buyers of lower priced garments will have ample attention.

WE INVITE EVERYBODY.

Come to see, even if you have no thought of buying. It will be like going on a wrap inspection in one of the big New York houses, and you will go away better posted.

D. A. FRANK & CO.

LOCAL MENTION.

New mackintoshes at Seffner Bros.' House and lot for sale cheap. See A. J. Jameson, 217 Chestnut street, 223-24. Telephone No. 12 calls up F. E. Blake, the florist and gardener, on Garden City pike, 137-138.

Best Sandusky City lake sand and gravel at N. J. Lawrence's, 235 north Main street, 135-136.

The celebrated Murray City lump coal for sale by Linsley & Lawrence, Telephone 6, 42-43.

I want to sell my house and lot. Mrs. Eve Bunker, 247 south Main street, 273-274.

Ladies, we can show you an elegant stock of the latest style jackets and capes. SEFFNER BROS.

Republican club organization tonight, over Blue Front, corner State and Center streets. Old and young invited.

See our nobby boucle jackets and handsome capes, in seal, plush, boucle and fine cloth. SEFFNER BROS.

Gas heating stoves, just suited for chilly weather. Can be attached to any gas jet. Handsome, comfortable and cheap. See them at Cunningham & Stowe's, 276-277.

The Big Four Route will have on sale, Oct. 7, 8, 21 and 22, excursion tickets to points west, northwest and southwest at very low rates for round trip. 272-273 A. C. Bowes, Agent.

An old subscriber wants to know what Marion wants with a rubbish crematory when all the rubbish about town can be stored away in the rubbish room next to the office of the attorney in the court house.

Republican club organization tonight, over Blue Front, corner State and Center streets. Old and young invited.

Dr. M. Patton and wife leave Agosta this week, after a residence of nine years, to take up their residence in Quincy, Illinois. Many friends of both the doctor and his wife regret their departure, but wish them a pleasant home in their new location.

The case of Mrs. Mary Uncapher against Jane L. and C. E. Gregg was tried before a jury in the court of Squire O'bush this afternoon. Mrs. Uncapher brought suit to recover $132 for rent. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff in the amount asked.

M. Schott, formerly of this city, is vice president of the Pathological society of the Wooster University, at Cleveland, and at a recent meeting read a paper on the "Pacillus of Rheumatic Tetanus." The doctor expects to begin the practice of medicine here when he completes his Cleveland course.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The Huber company has workmen engaged in making an addition to their office building. To the south of their big three-story office building a two-story addition is being made, and the one-story wing occupied by Mr. Huber's office will be raised to two stories. The whole addition is about 22x35 feet. Besides this improvement a fire-proof vault, 12x14 feet, is being built in Treasurer Barlow's office on the second floor.

The Y. M. C. A. football team is getting down to work. The signals were put up Monday and the boys had an hour's practice. Orley Kapp has been appointed captain. Orley plays ball with the same vigor that he did of old, and some of the other players will put up an equally good game. The game with Delaware will likely be played on the 26th. The suits for the local team could not be secured until that date. The boys have several games in sight, but are going to see what they can do with Delaware ere they tackle any of the better teams.

Real Estate Transfers.
David Mouser and wife to J. B. Wallace, lot 256 in David Mouser's addition to Marion, $300.

Fred Strobel and wife to Frank L. Cloud and Isabella Cloud, lot 2120 in Strobel & Stringer's addition to Marion, $300.

M. J. Carpenter to T. N. Anderson, lots 10 and 11 in T. N. Anderson's addition to Caledonia, $200.

T. N. Anderson to John Ruth, lot 10 in T. N. Anderson's addition to Caledonia, $180.

J. A. Worrell, the New Jeweler.

J. A. Worrell, the new jeweler in Freeland's store, west Center street, by way of introduction to you, will sell this week special as follows:

Silver thimbles, 10¢ each.

Trifly stick pins, 10¢ each.

Nickel alarm clocks, 75¢ each.

All warranted.

We also ask you to look at our many elegant wedding and birthday presents.

2802 M. B. DICKERSON, Agent.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Company G held its regular drill on the streets last night.

Two more physicians, it is reported, will locate in this city in a few weeks.

One week from Sunday next the African M. E. church, at Mansfield, will be dedicated by Bishop Arnett. Many from this place will attend.

The frame shop of Joe Speckenberger has been moved back to the alley east of State street and the excavation for a brick shop 15x22 is being made.

1. Kelly & Company will have State street nearly completed within a week if the weather remains favorable. State street will present a fine appearance next week.

Harry Weir entertained a number of friends at the Marion Ice Cream factory Monday night. Oysters, ice cream and other refreshments were served. The boys spent a very enjoyable evening.

The marshal of Mt. Victory went over to LaRue Monday night and arrested, as we are informed, James Malloy, charging him with having stolen an ax and part of a set of harness at Mt. Victory.

Cooper Post, No. 117, G. A. R., met at its hall last night and transacted the regular routine business and appointed a committee to look after several parties wearing G. A. R. badges who are not entitled to wear them.

A pleasant time was spent at the home of Elmer Magabey, on Leader street, Monday evening, by a number of young people, in honor of Miss Blankner, of Kenton. The evening was spent in music and games and tally pulling.

The members of the Junior League of the U. B. church, will give an entertainment in the church next Saturday evening. It will be in the line of a reception to their new pastor. Light refreshments will be served free. All are invited.

The case of Mrs. Mary Uncapher against Jane L. and C. E. Gregg was tried before a jury in the court of Squire O'bush this afternoon. Mrs. Uncapher brought suit to recover $132 for rent. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff in the amount asked.

M. Schott, formerly of this city, is vice president of the Pathological society of the Wooster University, at Cleveland, and at a recent meeting read a paper on the "Pacillus of Rheumatic Tetanus." The doctor expects to begin the practice of medicine here when he completes his Cleveland course.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The Huber company has workmen engaged in making an addition to their office building. To the south of their big three-story office building a two-story addition is being made, and the one-story wing occupied by Mr. Huber's office will be raised to two stories. The whole addition is about 22x35 feet. Besides this improvement a fire-proof vault, 12x14 feet, is being built in Treasurer Barlow's office on the second floor.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by a small blaze at the asphalt plant. When the central department had proceeded part of the way out it was made known that the fire had been extinguished. The blaze was caused by some oil getting afire but the flames were speedily extinguished by using loose sand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Holverstott returned today from a week's visit to Mrs. Holverstott's old home in Fairfield county. Mr. and Mrs. Holverstott brought back with them samples of fruit, apples and quinces, grown in that part of the state, that attracted the attention of lovers of that variety of fruit, and would be the envy of local fruit growers.

Marion Republicans will organize a Bushnell club tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the republican headquarters and club rooms, corner of State and Center streets. The purpose of organization is to attend the big rally at Columbus on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, and to give Gov. McKinley a fitting reception when he comes to Marion on Oct. 23. Chairman Dickerson anticipates the organization of a good big club.

The fire department was called out shortly after the noon hour by